⇐ Potentially lower returns				Potentially higher returns ⇐
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
⇐ Lower risk				Higher risk ⇐

The risk indicator is rated from 1 (low) to 7 (high). The rating reflects how much the value of the fund's assets goes up and down. A higher risk generally means higher potential returns over time, but more ups and downs along the way.

To help you clarify your own attitude to risk, you can seek financial advice or work out your risk profile at <https://sorted.org.nz/>.

Note that even the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment, and there are other risks that are not captured by this rating.

This risk indicator is not a guarantee of a fund's future performance. The risk indicator is based on the returns data for 5 years to 30 Jun 2025. While risk indicators are usually relatively stable, they do shift from time to time. The risk indicator will continue to be updated in future fund updates.

See the product disclosure statement (PDS) for more information about the risks associated with investing in this fund.

The estimate incorporates information provided by the underlying fund manager as well as information sourced from the underlying fund's disclosure documents.

Investors may also be charged individual action fees for specific actions or decisions (for example, for withdrawing from or switching funds). See the PDS for the Aurora RetirementPlus Age 50 on the offer register at <https://disclose-register.companiesoffice.govt.nz> for more information about those fees.

Example of how this applies to an investor

Small differences in fees and charges can have a big impact on your investment over the long term.

At the end of the year, Anthony received a return after fund charges were deducted of $921 (that is 9.21% of his initial $10,000). Anthony also paid $36 in other charges. ## Notes

1. A combination of actual returns and market index returns have been used to determine the risk indicator as the investment option has not been operating for the required five years. Market index returns have been used until 31 August 2021 and actual returns thereafter. The risk indicator may therefore provide a less reliable indicator of future volatility.
2. The bar chart shows returns of the investment option after deducting fees and tax. Tax is deducted at the highest Prescribed Investor Rate of 28%. However, the market index returns are shown before deducting fees and tax.
