

Investment Objective

The objective of the fund is to create consistent long-term wealth for investors irrespective of market direction.

Fund Profile

The portfolio typically spans all South African equity sectors, with the majority of exposure being in the top 100 listed equities on the JSE, by market capitalisation. Our portfolio construction approach assigns exposures into different risk buckets; namely low risk intra-sector pairs, cross-sector pairs, themes and absolute value. Intra-sector pairs typically dominate the portfolio and position sizes rarely exceed 10%. Leverage rarely exceeds 2.5 times and net exposure, once beta adjusted is generally close to zero. The fund aims to return Cash plus 5 - 7% annually, on a rolling 3 year basis.

Cumulative Performance Since Inception

The investment performance is for illustrative purposes only; the investment performance is calculated by taking the actual initial fees and all ongoing fees into account for the amount shown; assuming income is reinvested on the reinvestment date.

*The inception date for the portfolio is 1 November 2003. The historical performance figures until the end of 31 October 2016 reflect performance achieved prior to CISCA regulation. The portfolio has been transitioned under CISCA regulations on 1 November 2016 and has since been managed as a regulated product. The annualized total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period, since date of the launch of the fund. Actual annual figures are available from the manager on request. The highest and lowest 1 year returns represent the highest and lowest actual returns achieved during a 12 month rolling period year since the original launch date of the portfolio. The performance figures given show the yield on a Net Asset value ("NAV") basis. The yield figure is not a forecast. Performance is not guaranteed and investors should not accept it as representing expected future performance. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, time of entry/actual investment date, date of reinvestment, and dividends withholding tax. Performance is calculated for a lump sum investment on a Net Asset Value basis. The performance figures are reported net of fees with income reinvested

Market Commentary

April was marked by heightened geopolitical tension, aggressive US trade policy, and increased market volatility. President Trump's imposition of sweeping tariffs on all US imports, including a full suite of new measures targeting over 60 countries, reverberated across global markets. The scale of the tariffs was far broader than expected, particularly the restrictions targeting Chinese goods. This escalation effectively curtailed bilateral trade with China, raising fears of stagflation as inflation expectations rose and economic growth prospects slowed. The US trade policy created immense uncertainty for firms and consumers, enough to push the US into recession. No offsetting policy, like tax cuts or fiscal support, has yet been announced to counter this self-inflicted pain.

With the US playing the bully with adversaries and allies, we might enter a new economic order, placing the US status as the flight to safety under threat. Large parts of April saw the simultaneous weakening of the US dollar, US bonds and the US stock market - like what emerging markets experience under crises. Gold outperformed on safe-haven demand, while US equities initially sold off before rebounding sharply after a temporary tariff pause was announced for all countries except China. China, now squarely in the US crosshairs, retaliated with diplomatic and trade-related countermeasures and attempted to galvanise support from other nations. The strained US-China relationship weighed on Chinese growth expectations and commodity demand. The ripple effects were felt globally, with industrial metals under pressure and oil prices weakened due to OPEC supply signals and deteriorating global demand expectations.

Locally, South Africa was once again caught in diplomatic friction. Government decisions to instruct Taiwan's liaison office to relocate, and the controversial appointment of Mcebisi Jonas as special envoy to the US, despite his past remarks about Trump, risked further souring relations. Meanwhile, the domestic fiscal landscape was fluid. After an intense pushback, the proposed VAT hike was scrapped, averting a Government of National Unity (GNU) breakdown. Encouragingly, the coalition survived what many viewed as its most serious test to date, and recent polling indicating rising support for the DA could set the stage for more market-friendly reforms post-election. Another positive is South Africa's terms of trade tailwinds, driven by strong gold and weaker oil prices.

Stock-specific developments were mixed:

Capitec (+11%) delivered strong results, led by continued momentum in insurance and value-added services. Telkom (+3%) completed the regulatory approval process for the R6.75bn sale of Swiftnet, strengthening its balance sheet. The Supreme Court of Appeal in South Africa upheld parts of Turkcell's long-standing claim against MTN (+2%) regarding the Iran telecoms license.

Aspen (-25%) shocked markets with the loss of a key contract in its manufacturing division. Management flagged a potential 50% decline in EBITDA for the division, with a R770m impairment likely. Gold Fields (+0%) faced political headwinds after Ghana declined to renew the lease on its Damang mine. A subsequent 12-month transition agreement was reached.

Looking ahead, the Fund remains focused on navigating heightened macroeconomic and political risks. While domestic fiscal discipline, strong terms of trade and lower inflation offer some optimism, the lack of productive investment and political certainty, rising geopolitical tensions, and protectionist US trade policies continue to present challenges for emerging market assets. As always, we expect relative value opportunities to emerge in this environment and remain agile in positioning.

Glossary

Net Asset Value (NAV) :	Means net asset value, which is the total market value of all assets in a portfolio including any income accruals and less and deductible expenses such as audit fees, brokerage and service fees.
Annualised Return :	Is the weighted average compound growth rate over the performance period measured.
Highest &amp; Lowest Return :	The highest and lowest rolling twelve-month performance of the portfolio since inception.
Total Expense Ratio (TER) :	Reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's.
Transaction Costs (TC) :	Is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns.
Total Investment Charges (TIC) :	Should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager.
Total Investment Charges (TIC%) :	= TER (%) + TC (%): The Total Investment Charges (TIC), the TER + the TC, is the percentage of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as costs relating to the investment of the Financial Product. It should be noted that a TIC is the sum of two calculated ratios (TER+TC).
Standard Deviation :	The deviation of the return of the portfolio relative to its average.
Drawdown :	The greatest peak to trough loss until a new peak is reached.
Sharpe Ratio :	The ratio of excess return over the risk-free rate divided by the total volatility of the portfolio.
Sortino Ratio :	The ratio of excess return over the risk-free rate divided by the downside deviation of the portfolio.
Correlation :	A number between -1 and 1 indicating the similarity of the dispersion of returns between the portfolio and another asset or index with 1 being highly correlated, -1 highly negatively correlated and 0 uncorrelated.
Value at Risk (VaR) :	Value at risk is the minimum loss percentage that can be expected over a specified time period at a predetermined confidence level.
Leverage/Gearing :	The use of securities, including derivative instruments, short positions or borrowed capital to increase the exposure beyond the capital employed to an investment.

Fund Risk

Leverage Risk :	The Fund borrows additional funds, trades on margin or performs short sale trades to amplify investment decisions. This means that the volatility of a hedge fund portfolio can be many times that of the underlying investments due to leverage on a fund.
Derivative Risk :	Derivative positions are financial instruments that derive their value from an underlying asset. Derivatives are exposed to implicit leverage which could result in magnified gains and/or losses on the portfolio.
Counterparty Credit Risk :	Counterparty risk is a type of credit risk and is the risk of default by the counterparty associated with trading derivative contracts. An example of counterparty credit risk is margin or collateral held with a prime broker.
Volatility Risk :	Volatility refers to uncertainty and risk related to size of change of an instrument or portfolio. It is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a given security or market index. Volatility is proportional to the directional exposure of a portfolio and is measured by Value at risk (VaR) which is a statistical technique used to measure and quantify the level of volatility.
Concentration and Sector Risk :	A large proportion of total assets invested in specific assets, sectors or regions. Concentrated positions or concentrated sectors in a portfolio will material impact the returns of the portfolio more so than diversified portfolios.
Correlation Risk :	A measure that determines how assets move in relation to each other. Correlation risk arises when the correlation between asset-classes change. Correlation risk also arises when the correlation within an asset-class changes. Examples of correlation within asset classes include equity pairs trading, fixed income curve trading and commodities pairs trading.
Equity Risk :	Applies to investment in shares or derivatives based on shares. The market price of shares varies depending on supply and demand of the shares. Equity risk is the risk of loss due to the drop in the market price of shares. Equity risk can either be systematic risk which is risk to the entire market based on political and economic indicators or unsystematic risk which is company specific and includes risk relating to company profits, future prospects and general consensus on the company or sector.

Portfolio Valuation & Transaction Cut - Off

Portfolios are valued monthly. The cut off time for processing investment subscriptions is 10:00am on the last business day of the month prior to enable processing for investment on the first business day of the next month. Redemptions are subject to one calendar months notice.

Total Expense Ratio

A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs are a necessary cost in administering the financial product and impacts financial product returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
