

Investment Objective

The objective of the fund is to create consistent long-term wealth for investors irrespective of market direction.

Fund Profile

The portfolio typically spans all South African equity sectors, with the majority of exposure being in the top 100 listed equities on the JSE, by market capitalisation. Our portfolio construction approach assigns exposures into different risk buckets; namely low risk intra-sector pairs, cross-sector pairs, themes and absolute value. Intra-sector pairs typically dominate the portfolio and position sizes rarely exceed 10%. Leverage rarely exceeds 2.5 times and net exposure, once beta adjusted is generally close to zero. The fund aims to return Cash plus 5 - 7% annually, on a rolling 3 year basis.

Cumulative Performance Since Inception

The investment performance is for illustrative purposes only; the investment performance is calculated by taking the actual initial fees and all ongoing fees into account for the amount shown; assuming income is reinvested on the reinvestment date.

Market Commentary

Global risk assets navigated another month of policy whiplash. Softer US payrolls and downward revisions initially drove a powerful front-end rally with as much as 75 bps of easing priced by January, before firmer PPI and capex orders tempered expectations back toward a single 25 bp cut in September. The tariff overhang broadened beyond China, with fresh rhetoric and actions referencing India, Switzerland, and South Africa-India's move toward a 50% rate late in the month and carve-outs for US-made production kept second-round inflation risks in focus. Leadership within the AI complex wobbled after high-profile commentary questioned near-term monetisation. Gold remains close to all-time highs. Household indicators were mixed, with confidence easing, existing-home sales stabilising alongside drifting-lower mortgage rates, and labour data showing slower hiring and higher continuing claims.

Domestically, near-term inflation prints are expected to tick higher, but the SARB framed the move as temporary at its AGM, preserving an easing bias. The reform tape offered rare tangibles: Transnet awarded open-access slots to 11 operators across 41 routes, with government flagging the potential for rail volumes to rise by roughly 20 Mtpa from FY26/27 and up to R100bn of private rolling-stock investment-a prerequisite for sustained growth and a structurally lower logistics drag. Cyclically, the consumer signal remained uneven, even as NAAMSA reported a robust 15.6% y/y increase in July new-vehicle sales.

Corporate developments were busy beyond routine results. Curro (+36%) drew a firm-intention offer from Jannie Mouton Foundation to acquire and delist the company, pointing to continued consolidation in private education. Woolworths (+2%) announced a new CEO for its FBH division, signalling a leadership reset in a challenged apparel segment. Motus (+13%) reported stronger cash generation and lower debt, offering leverage to the improved auto cycle and further balance-sheet de-risking. Truworths (-13%) was a weak discretionary read, underscoring ongoing pressure on SA apparel spend. The retailers significantly lagged the market over August and year-to-date. FirstRand's (-2%) UK remediation exposure looks better bounded within the FCA range as the UK redress backdrop improved after the Supreme Court ruling narrowed worst-case outcomes. Sibanye-Stillwater (-11%) disappointed, still burning cash on the period and hampered by legacy gold hedges and streaming contracts, with a lower outlook for gold production and cost control remaining a concern. Harmony (-9%) delivered solidly for FY25, though the market faded the higher capex guidance. Goldfields (+26%) results highlighted they are on track for meeting guidance, and that Salares Norte is ramping up according to plan. Sasol (+33%) saw a strong update, beating low expectations and signalling progress in its restructuring.

Looking ahead, markets remain hostage to the interplay between an approaching Fed pivot, the breadth of tariff actions, and the durability of earnings outside mega-cap AI. At home, the combination of a credible easing path, early logistics reform wins, and cyclical green shoots in mining and autos offers a constructive counterweight to fragile consumer momentum. Dispersion remains high across sectors and single names; we continue to emphasise balance, liquidity and agility to exploit relative-value dislocations as the macro narrative shifts.
